Welcome to yet another exciting season in the continuing tradition of the Concordia Stingers men's and women's teams.

The Stingers have achieved prominent successes in the past, and I know our athletes will continue to represent Concordia well in the future. They have demonstrated a willingness to work hard and aim high. Their efforts are symbolic of the Concordia mission – a commitment to develop ourselves to full potential.

A university education is more than formal classes, seminars and laboratories. It includes the informal intellectual, social, athletic and cultural encounters that enhance understanding of ourselves and of what we are capable.

Intercollegiate sports are an important part of the Concordia experience. Our teams are competitive and continue to be a source of pride to the entire University community. They deserve our full support and loyalty.

Enjoy the games and join me in encouraging the Stingers during the upcoming season.

On behalf of the Department of Recreation and Athletics, I would like to welcome you to one of the great traditions of Concordia University. Welcome to the 1996-'97 intercollegiate sports season.

Leadership, strength and determination characterized by athletic endeavor are attributes that have long been associated with the development and growth of young men and women. This season another group of student-athletes will step up to the challenges and opportunities presented by interuniversity sports. Through their efforts we all gain a sense of the values that are a common thread throughout our university.

I would like to offer my heartfelt thanks to all the people whose support helps keep the Stingers on the leading edge of Canadian university varsity sports. Our student-athletes would not be able to reach such a high level of excellence without the support of sponsors, alumni, fans, friends and family.

I urge you to join me in cheering the Stingers on to great success. I hope to see you often.

Welcome to Concordia University

With approximately 25,000 students (of which 13,346 study full-time), 3,000 faculty and staff members, and more than 80,000 alumni worldwide, Concordia University is one of Canada's largest and most dynamic institutions of higher learning.

Students can choose from 160 undergraduate and graduate programs in four faculties: commerce and administration, fine arts, engineering and computer science, and arts and science. Also, integrated within the faculties are seven colleges and more than a dozen research centres.

The university has two campuses: Sir George Williams, which has approximately 42 buildings spread over 13 blocks of downtown Montreal; and Loyola, which sits seven kilometres away on 46 acres in west-end Montreal. The latter has 37 buildings.

From its founding institutions – Loyola College (1896) and Sir George Williams University (1873) –

Concordia has inherited a tradition of superior teaching supported by the best possible scholarship, creative activity, research and service to society.

Although the majority of its students are recent CEGEP graduates, Concordia maintains an openness to part-time studies, flexible class schedules and an interdisciplinary approach to learning for men and women of all ages and backgrounds.

Concordia University provides students with programs and services to enhance their academic achievement and promote their personal development as responsible, well-rounded individuals. Student Services recognizes that all development, both intellectual and personal, is affected by a number of circumstances: financial, cultural, physical, ethical and psychological. A wide range of activities and services helps students to cope with challenges in these and other areas.

The overall aim of all programs is to ensure that students can make the most of their university experience. As a reflection of these principles, there are six Student Services Directorates: Recreation & Athletics, Financial Aid & Awards, Advocacy & Support Services, Counselling & Development, the Dean of Students and Health Services.

For general information on Concordia University call the public relations department at 848-4880. For details on admissions call 848-2668.

GO STINGERS GO

Concordia emerges as a hotbed of pro prospects

There was a time, not too long ago, that Concordia University was known as O-Line U. Every year or two, a big offensive lineman would attract a lot of attention and eventually make his way to the CFL.

Nick Benjamin, the first pick overall in the 1985 CFL draft, Rocco Romano of the Calgary Stampeders and Paul Vajda of the Saskatchewan Roughriders are a few of the more notable former Stinger linemen who have gone on to enjoy great success at the next level.

Over the last few years, Concordia head coach Pat Sheahan sees a new trend emerging. "Skilled players are also attaining pro status," he says.

Just about everyone has an opinion on why Concordia has suddenly become a hotbed of pro talent, but Sheahan gives a lot of the credit to offensive co-ordinator Gerry McGrath and his system.

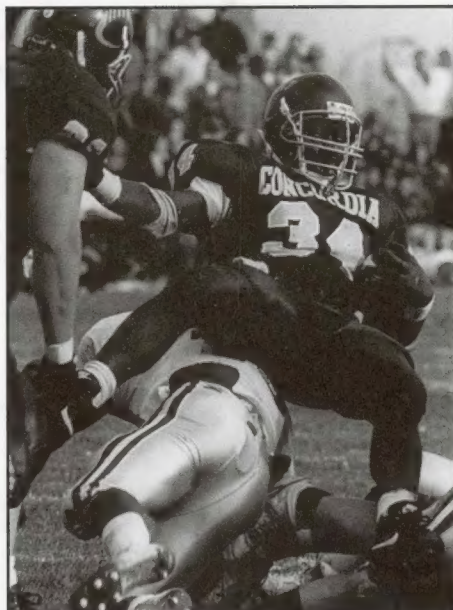

"We play a West Coast offence," Sheahan explained. "As far as college goes we're very innovative. We run a pro-style offence at the university level.

"I think if a young man aspires to continue his career at the next level, he's going to be very well prepared to move on."

From the 1995 team three Stingers, all who mastered the intricacies of McGrath's read offence, reached the professional ranks. Wide receiver Denis Montana with his lightening-fast speed attracted attention from the Miami Dolphins and San Diego Chargers before finally signing as a free agent with the Houston Oilers. At press time, he was negotiating with the Montreal Alouettes, who own his CFL rights, and considering the possibility of getting on a NFL practice roster.

Fullback Farrell Duclair was the Calgary Stampeders' first round draft pick in March. He lines up behind Romano, who was also a Calgary first round pick in 1987.

Slotback André Bolduc also reached the pros. He signed as a free agent with the Ottawa Rough Riders and had earned a starting position by mid-season. Bolduc was an ardent student and he learned McGrath's system well.

Farrell Duclair (34) is the second Concordia player to be drafted in the first round by Calgary.

"James Ellingson, the Rough Riders' 10-year CFL veteran receiver, said he thought André was the most prepared first-year receiver that he had ever played with," McGrath said.

"Most CFL rookies are lost. They can't read, and that's the biggest reason most guys don't stick."

The coaching staff hopes the Stingers' recent success at getting players to the professional ranks has a snowball effect. It should considering how all the young players are reacting to the success.

"André and Denis were the hardest working guys on our offence in their last year here," McGrath explained. "The rookies eat that up. They follow their lead. More guys on our team are running track every year. I can see a big difference in some players' off-season commitment to football."

Of course, it was Stinger receiver-turned-cornerback Mark Montreuil who really opened the eyes of a lot of football people. In 1995, he was drafted in the seventh round by the San Diego Chargers. He made the team and dressed for every one of the Chargers' games last season.

First it was Montreuil, then last spring three more players joined the pro ranks. There's no doubt Concordia has become one of Canada's top breeding grounds for NFL and CFL prospects.

Former Stinger receiver stars in NBC drama

Just about every Canadian University team can brag about a player or two who have gone on to enjoy some degree of success playing professional football, but how many can say one of their alumni stars in a NBC drama every Friday night?

Clark Johnson, who was a receiver and defensive back with the Stingers from 1976-'78, plays Detective Meldrick Lewis on Homicide: Life on the Street.

"It was no surprise to see he made it in the entertainment business," said Concordia head coach Pat Sheahan, who was a teammate of Johnson's in the late '70s. "He was a real character. He always had lots of stories to tell. He was very animated, a gregarious sort of person."

Johnson was a tall, fast receiver and defensive back, who was drafted by the Toronto Argonauts in 1978. But show business was his true love. While at Concordia he studied Film and pursued a career in it afterwards.

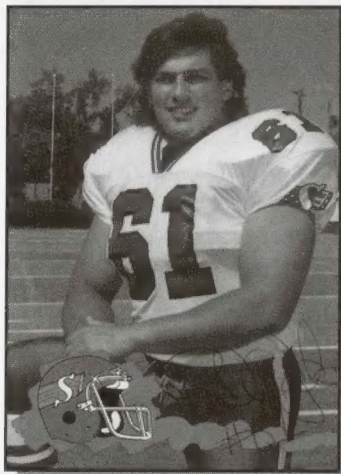

At first, he found work as a camera assistant on various television projects, then he worked as a special effects technician. Then he decided to turn his attention to acting and earned film roles in Colors, Iron Eagle II, Adventures in Babysitting and Drop Zone starring Wesley Snipes.

In his spare time, Johnson directs music videos for rock bands and directs episodes of The Family Channel's Under African Skies.

Every now and then, Johnson also finds time to call the Concordia football office and ask how the Stingers are doing. In 1993, he even attended Concordia's national semifinal game at the SkyDome in Toronto.

As 'Montreal'

as the Kid, the Flower, and the Rocket

When it comes to sports, Montrealers are a breed apart. From dynasties on ice to celebrations on the soccer field, Montreal fans are famous for their passion, their penchant for nicknames – and their pride.

They're also famous for their knowledge of the game. Whether it's the batting average of a right-fielder or the latest rumors of an impending trade, Montrealers know the score every day with the help of The Gazette.

Seven days a week, superstar columnists like Jack Todd, Red Fisher and Pat Hickey cover all the bases in a sports section that's as 'Montreal' as the city that invented basketball.

1996 Concordia Coaching Staff

Pat Sheahan
Head Coach,
Concordia Stingers

Pat Sheahan

The 1996 season will see many new faces wearing maroon, white and gold uniforms. Many former players have moved on to new battlefields among the professional ranks or in corporate arenas. Although their efforts as Stinger players will be missed their departure has created opportunities for a whole new generation of Stinger stars. The coaches and I have assembled an exciting new group to entertain you throughout the autumn season. The core of returning veterans reported to training camp in excellent physical condition and highly motivated to continue where last year's team left off in search of a national championship. A talented new group of ath- letes will take the challenge to get us all to SkyDome in November.

The O-QIFC is a tough place to earn your stripes as a football team, but I think many of these young men are ready to accept the challenge and will provide you with our most exciting season ever. The '96 edition of the Stingers will utilize speed and quickness against opponents this year. Look for the Stingers to be tough to beat by season's end.

On behalf of all Stinger coaches and players I thank you for your support and I hope you enjoy another great season of college football at Loyola Campus.

offensive co-ordinator

In his years as a CFL kicker with Montreal and Saskatchewan and later as a coach, Gerry McGrath proved to be an ardent student of the game. His innovations as a coach at the Quebec junior and semi-professional levels have heavily influenced the game in this province. He is frequently sought out as a guest speaker at clinics and a coach at camps, both for his extensive knowledge and his ability to put a lot of fun into the game of football. McGrath has co-ordinated the Stingers' offence since 1992.

PETER CHRYSOMALIS
defensive co-ordinator

In the seven years Peter Chryssomalis has served as Concordia's defensive co-ordinator, he has transformed the Stingers into one of the toughest defensive teams in Canadian university football. He came to Concordia after taking the Châteauguay Raiders, one of the most prestigious junior clubs in Canada, to two provincial championships in three years. The native of Montreal played three seasons for the Stingers (1980-82). He was an outstanding defensive halfback with Concordia's 1982 O-QIFC championship team.

PETER REGIMBALD
linebackers/specialty teams
co-ordinator

The senior member of the Concordia coaching staff, Peter Regimbald begins his 16th season with the Stingers. A former wide receiver with the Montreal Alouettes, Regimbald played college football at St. Francis Xavier. His university coaching career began in 1970 at Loyola College where he helped lead the Warriors to three league titles in the 1970s. He has also coached at Vanier College. Coach Regimbald's son Scott earned a football scholarship from the University of Houston Cougars last January.

PAUL CHESSER
defensive line coach

Paul Chesser joined the Concordia coaching staff in 1994 after completing a distinguished five-year playing career with the Stingers. In his final season, the awards were many for the defensive end. He won the John Metras Trophy, which is awarded annually to the outstanding lineman in Canadian university football. He is the only Stinger to ever win a major award at the national level. In 1993, Chesser was a unanimous choice for the O-QIFC all-star team and a first-team All-Canadian.

DAN MCKINNON

quarterback coach

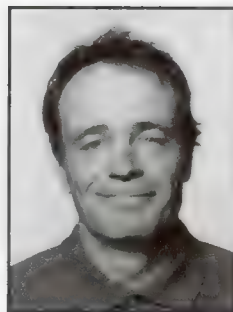

A former president of the Quebec Football Coaches Association, Dan McKinnon has coached or lent his expertise to teams at every elite level in the province from the St. Bruno minor football association to the under-19 provincial team to the junior ranks with the record-setting St. Leonard Cougars and the Montreal Voyageurs at the semi-professional level. This summer, he was a guest coach at the Calgary Stampeders training camp. He has also run many football clinics and tutored most of Quebec's best young quarterbacks.

GRANT ALLAN

defensive line coach

Grant Allan begins his seventh season on the Concordia staff following a long and distinguished coaching career in the North Shore

Football League. Professional players like the Tampa Bay Buccaneers' Ian Beckles, former Seattle Seahawk Bill Hitchcock and former Houston Oiler Alonzo Highsmith all played under the watchful eyes of coach Allan in his North Shore days. In addition to superb players, Allan has always had winning teams. He has won championships at the bantam, midget, junior and university levels.

BRYAN CARROLL

offensive line coach

Bryan Carroll has one of the most interesting football backgrounds on the Concordia staff. He started out losing game after game in the North Shore atom ranks, before finding the winning touch with a provincial championship at the peewee level. After that there was no stopping him. He enjoyed great success at the bantam and semi-professional levels. He has been asked on several occasions to be a guest coach at the Notre Dame Fighting Irish's spring and summer camps, where he worked alongside CFL legend Tom Clemens.

PAT GREGORY

Pat Gregory now begins his second season as a valued member of the Stingers' coaching staff. As a player, he established himself as one of the premier receivers in the country with the Bishop's Gaiters from 1988-91. His last two seasons as a player, he earned All-Canadian honors. Since leaving the playing field, Gregory has proved to be one of the best young coaches in the province. He was the receiver coach with the CEGEP St. Jean Geants and has also worked with the successful provincial 19-and-under team.

LUC PELLAND

linebacker coach

Luc Pelland joined the coaching staff in 1995 after wrapping up a remarkable five-year career as a linebacker with the Stingers. During 1994, which was his final season in uniform, he was a league all-star, an All-Canadian and the O-QLFC's nominee for the President's Trophy, which is awarded to the outstanding defensive player in Canadian university football. Last winter he travelled to Thonon, France, where he enjoyed his first experience as a head coach. He was at the helm of the Division 1 Black Panthers.

BRYAN VAJDA

offensive line coach

Bryan Vajda, now in his fourth season with the Stingers' coaching staff, is a former Concordia offensive guard and part of a long line of outstanding linemen the Stingers have produced. He played four years for Concordia from 1986-89. He was a Stinger captain and an All-Canadian at left guard in his final year. Football smarts seem to run in the family, coach Vajda's brother Paul, another former Concordia star at offensive guard, is now playing in his sixth season with the Saskatchewan Roughriders in the CFL.

Dominik Goulet: This warrior aims high

With his special talent for reading defences Goulet makes quarterbacking look easy.

Head coach Pat Sheahan predicts Goulet will lead the O-QIFC in passing this season.

Terry Bradshaw once asked, "Heck, what is there to quarterbacking? If a receiver's open throw it to him. If he's not open, throw it to him anyway. Let the guy show his athletic ability."

Bradshaw obviously never ran an intricate read offence or else he'd acknowledge the exceptional generalship needed to execute it. Perhaps he'd gain a whole new respect for quarterbacking if he spent a week or two with Concordia offensive co-ordinator Gerry McGrath and his star pupil, pivot Dominik Goulet.

"There's a lot to absorb in our offence," McGrath said. "You have to learn different coverages. You have to learn the strengths and weaknesses of those coverages. It's pretty detailed as far as things were looking at. There really is a lot to it. It takes a good season or season and a half just to get comfortable with it."

Goulet, who begins his fourth season with the Stingers this fall, is looking forward to his first full season at the helm of the Concordia offence. The six-foot, 210-pound quarterback from Outremont, Que., has spent a lot of hours preparing to run the Stingers' West Coast offence, and head coach Pat Sheahan feels he's ready for the responsibility.

"Dominik is physically strong and ready to make an impact in 1996," he said. "I predict that he will lead all O-QIFC passers."

Perhaps Goulet's biggest strength is his calm, cool, sensible approach to football.

"The most difficult thing when you're teaching is to get quarterbacks to stand in the pocket and read coverage," said McGrath, who has been coaching young signal-callers for more than 10 years. "Dominik has always had an exceptional ability to read coverage. He has a knack for knowing who's open on the field, and there are a lot of pro quarterbacks who never develop that sixth sense for finding the open guy."

Poise is another of Goulet's virtues. He's not the type of player that's easily tempted to go for a high-risk, crowd-pleasing play.

"I'm patient," he said. "I like to throw the football, but throw it with control — not just go back and launch a bomb. A five-yard pass and a 40-yard run by a receiver is more rewarding. It doesn't take a great brain to throw a bomb."

While Goulet is regarded as a general of the field by most people, he prefers to think of himself as a warrior, just like his former teammates receivers André Bolduc (Ottawa Rough Riders) and Denis Montana (a first-round CFL draft pick).

"André and Dennis, they were great examples to me, especially when it comes to work ethic and how to play the game like a warrior. They were warriors out there on the field, not football players.

"I think I'm a warrior too. I had to work hard for everything I'm successful at. I can't just go out there and play, I won't be successful. I have to aim much higher."

Warrior? General? To McGrath it really doesn't matter. He just knows he likes what he sees.

"Dominik has an attitude you really like in a quarterback," he said. "He obviously has a passion for the game. He's willing to make any sacrifice for football. He wants to beat the defence on every play."

Pride drives Paul Eyles to new heights

Newspaper clippings fade, plaques and trophies become tarnished, but memories — they can last forever. Watching a good young football player come into his own is a good way to relive some great memories. The good ones inevitably draw comparisons. "Look at his stance, he reminds me of ...."

Fourth-year defensive tackle Paul Eyles, a Kingston, Ont. native, is one of those young players who brings back reminders of great plays and players from the past with his old-fashioned brand of hard-nosed football.

"Paul has played in the shadow of some great defensive linemen during his first three seasons at Concordia," said head coach Pat Sheahan. "I believe he will continue the tradition established by many former greats."

Paul Eyles is carrying on Concordia's great tradition on the defensive line.

Fifth-year rush end Johnny Petrella, a two-time O-QIFC all-star, has been grabbing quarterbacks and headlines for four years now. Danny Lavallee, also an all-star and a CFL draft pick, just graduated after five years. Before them, there was Paul Chesser, who wrapped up a prestigious five-year career in 1993 by winning the J.P. Metras Trophy, which is awarded to the outstanding lineman in Canadian university football.

"Paul set the pace," said Eyles of Chesser, now a coach with the Stingers. "I saw how hard he practised and how seriously he took game film. Danny was the same. They pass down a work ethic and some pride."

Eyles, who is six foot, 250 pounds, has had some good examples to follow, but now he looks forward to being the star and a leader.

"After you put in so much time, slowly it becomes your team," Eyles explained. "I like it because it forces me to play at my best. The coaches and the players expect a leader, I can't have a garbage game and try to pass it off."

Everyone expects a great season from Eyles, especially Sheahan who says, "Add Paul Eyles to the growing list of outstanding players on the Concordia defensive front."

Uzo Ubani is an ace in a Stingers uniform

When people hear talk about Uzo Ubani, inevitably someone will ask, "Isn't he a pitcher with the Montreal Expos?" No that's Ugueth Urbina.

While the confusion may be a little frustrating at times, it's easy to understand how Ubani, a star slotback with the Concordia Stingers, can be thought of as a professional level athlete.

"He has deceptive speed and great size and skill," said head coach Pat Sheahan of his ace slotback. "He will be one of several pro prospects wearing a Stinger uniform this year."

Concordia offensive co-ordinator Gerry McGrath, who played seven years in the CFL, also sees Ubani's potential.

Slotback Uzo Ubani is a graceful athlete who makes difficult plays look easy.

"I think he has the talent to go on and play at the next level," said the former pro kicker. "If he has the kind of year he's capable of, he should be drafted."

Ubani, a product of the Greenfield Park Packers and Vanier College football systems, stands six-feet, two-inches tall and weighs in at 200 pounds.

"He's a very graceful athlete," McGrath said. "He has a long stride and his hands are good. He makes a lot of difficult catches look easy because of his grace."

In 1995, Ubani caught 30 balls. Only slotback André Bolduc - with 35 receptions - caught more passes. Bolduc is now wearing an Ottawa Rough Riders uniform and catching pivot David Archer's passes.

Stingers wide receiver Denis Montana hauled in 29 balls in 1995 and he ended up drafted in the first round by the Montreal Alouettes and signing a free agent contract with the NFL's Houston Oilers.

Ubani should be the next Concordia receiver to move on to the professional ranks. Maybe, if the Montreal Alouettes draft Ubani, he can share a parking space with Ugueth Urbina at Olympic Stadium.

Signage:

The key to selling is location.
Where is an audience most captive?
At one of our sporting events.

Football Stadium: Concordia Stadium averages 20,000 spectators during the football season. In addition to this, during the summer months it is home to the Concordia Summer Sports Camp (300 children - ages 5 to 13 - and their parents every week).

Hockey Arena: Concordia Arena averages 60 varsity games per year, as well as more than 100 intramural events, thousands of students during final exams and many other organized hockey and roller hockey events. Concordia Arena also hosts a minimum of three major hockey tournaments every year:

The Theresa Humes Women's Invitational
Loyola High School Tournament
MBA Tournament

Gymnasium: The Concordia Gym hosts more than 70 basketball and volleyball games each year, as well as hundreds of intramural events, three major tournaments and final exams.

Football Stadium	$1,000
Arena	$1,000
Gynasium	$1,000
Olympia (ice cleaner)	$1,000

For more information on signage and other Stinger marketing opportunities such as advertising in the 1997 basketball, football and hockey programs, call Gerry McGrath at (514) 848-3868.
